STELLPROBE

COLLECTION ACQUISITIONS FROM THE LAST DECADE, IN A DISPLAY BY HEIMO ZOBERNIG

July 10–October 4, 2026, Belvedere 21

In the summer of 2026, Belvedere 21 will present a large-scale exhibition throughout its ground and upper-floor galleries, showcasing works acquired for the Belvedere collection over the past ten years. In keeping with the profile of the collection, artworks from all periods will be brought together in a spatial installation by Heimo Zobernig—a kind of Stellprobe, a staging rehearsal of sorts.

Collecting lies at the heart of the museum's mission. The targeted expansion of its holdings—spanning from medieval to contemporary art—follows programmatic criteria derived from the collection's profile and a critical reassessment of art history, particularly with regard to gaps and desiderata. Thus, a key emphasis has been—and continues to be—the substantial expansion of the presence of women artists and other historically underrepresented positions within the collection.

This exhibition reflects these priorities and features historical and contemporary works in a display conceived specifically for the occasion by artist Heimo Zobernig.
